SRPN President's Report

It doesn't seem possible that we're closing in on the end of 2025 with barely two months left. Where does the time seem to go? How can we take the most advantage of the balance of the year? As you may be aware Silver Ridge Park North offers several opportunities to pass the time in a social and enjoyable fashion. There's a Halloween Friday Fun Night, and several Christmas events on the horizon not to mention our Annual Thanksgiving Buffet-Dinner. I'm certain the Travel Committee, the Men's and Women's Club, have some seasonal activities in store as well. Whatever you choose to participate in, we're hoping you experience a great season.

The Board of Trustees would like to express our sincere appreciation for the overwhelming majority of Homeowners and Residents who understood the necessity for a slight operational fund dues raise and voted in favor by an impressive margin. The additional funds will be of great assistance in maintaining our standards and producing a viable budget. Thank you again for your participation in the process.

As of this publication, we will find ourselves amid the Trustee election process. The current Trustees cannot thank the prospective candidates enough for their willingness to step up and donate their time and effort to ensure that our community will continue to run smoothly. Please find it in all your hearts to participate in the voting process when the time comes. There will be spaces for write-in candidates. Please avail yourselves of this opportunity to suggest SRPN Homeowners that you know who are willing and able to fill that bill. Again, thanks for your cooperation. Allow me to take the time to thank Pete and the election committee for their tireless efforts.

By-Law amendments are another topic of current activity. The prospective changes were sent to our attorney for approval and were very recently returned with slight alterations. The by-law committee will review them shortly then pass them back to the Trustees for us to submit them to the public to be voted on. Hopefully the process will be completed in time to implement them for the coming year.

Let me close by wishing everyone a safe and happy holiday season and conveying my sincerest thanks for making Silver Ridge Park North the attractive community that it is.

~ Gary Klaw

Miriam Januse

My name is Miriam Januse, and my husband, Milt, and I have lived at 150 Castleton Drive for eight months.

For 30 years, I was President of a Manufacturer's Representative Association out of Washington, D.C., providing all aspects of service for successful high-end furniture brands throughout the US and Europe. My skills included project management, budget management, logistics, and customer relations.

started and owned a very successful handcrafted, artisan ice cream company in the town of Cape Charles on the Eastern Shore of Virginia for 12 years. Before opening, this sleepy bayside town was underdeveloped, and its economy was struggling. After assuming the risk of starting a business in that town, I helped form the local Business Association and served on its board. I also served on the Cape Charles Museum Board and was the main figure in designing. financing, building, maintaining, and promoting our area's first Virginia is for Lovers LOVE sign. My business and its success opened the door for so many more businesses to open and build up a town that is now one of the most sought-after beach towns in the Mid-Atlantic, touted by Coastal Living Magazine as well as USA Today.

For 11 years, I owned commercial properties and was responsible for all aspects of those businesses, including purchasing, budgeting, maintenance, marketing, and tenant relations.

I am currently a real estate agent for Coldwell Banker. Being a real estate agent requires you to be a strong communicator, have excellent negotiating skills, knowledge of the real estate market, and a commitment to ethics, active listening, and time management.

I believe we need a fresh perspective on old problems while still being fiscally responsible. I am passionate about our community and would be honored to serve as your HOA trustee.

Linda M. Pisano

My husband Mario and I have lived in Silver Ridge Park North for ten years.

Two months into moving here I joined Walk to the Beat. During that time I was fortunate enough to meet some people who were instrumental in getting me involved in the community.

After about one year I was appointed to the Board of Trustees. At the end of that term, I was elected during which time I served as your Vice President and then President. During my term as President, I am pleased to say that I was part of the renovation of the social hall among other things to better serve the community. I am presently, once again, your Vice President and during the beginning of this term I was instrumental in getting our front doors automated.

I am an organized person who with the help of several volunteers was able to move our library from the present office to its place in the card room. My organizational skills were a key requirement of my job as an elementary library assistant. In this position I was responsible for budgeting and ordering books for the children in grades K-5. I worked closely with volunteers scheduling them to read for storytime. I also represented my colleagues on our negotiating team.

I would very much like to continue to serve our community to keep the high standards of living that we presently enjoy.

Sharon Smithline

Hello, my name is Sharon Smithline. My husband Denny and I have only lived here 2 ½ years, but all of our business "Siding Plus," has been mainly done in this Silver Ridge Park area for the past 40 years – and still going!

I am a mother of 3 girls and grandmother of six. I do also work part-time at Lowes in Manchester now, and for the past 4 years.

I've come to meet some very nice people here in this community and I would Love to become a part of this board, or in any capacity that helps keep this community thriving as it should.

I feel I would be an asset helping in any way I can on committees, aranging party events and all the other great things that go on in this neighborhood. Thank You for your time! Hope to see you all very Soon!

Just a Note

"Every child should have two things: a dog and a mother willing to let them have one." ~ Robert Benchley

Growing up, we had a mother willing to let us have 'one', and I use the term 'one' loosely because when it came to dogs, our house had a revolving door. Our first dog was given to us by my mom's sister. He was a cute pudgy white Boxer that we named Cloud, and as Cloud grew bigger, so did his appetite - especially during our dinner time. Cloud would trot up to the table and pick his target, which was usually me (the weak one in the 'herd'). He'd sit on the floor, right next to my chair, and stare up at me with his fangs slightly showing. "Aw look, he's smiling at you!" my sister commented. Uhh, no he's not - he's plotting! That darn dog held me hostage at the table after the rest of the family left the kitchen more times than I care to remember, which often went unnoticed because I was a 'slower eater'. Eventually, Mom would realize I was STILL in the kitchen, and rescue me from Cujo, I mean Cloud... and so began my love(?) of dogs. Lucky for me, Cloud wasn't with us very long, and honestly, I can't recall why; I must have blocked it from my memory. Anyway, I was pretty happy when Mom vowed that we wouldn't have any more dogs after Cloud.

So, our next dog was a beautiful, mild-mannered German Shepherd named Schatzi. She loved playing outside and she moved like a gazelle, running around the backyard with us. My brother, Eddie, could do just about anything to this gentle animal and she'd simply look at my mom as if to say, "Can't you control this kid?" (Finally, a dog I could relate to!) Schatzi was with us for years ... and one day she wasn't. Our parents told us that Schatzi went to a farm where there was a little boy that needed a dog to keep him company. I can still see Eddie marching out the front door to the car, as he yelled for my dad to get the car keys, "That kid can get his own dog!" Years later I found out that Schatzi was sick and in pain; not wanting her to suffer, my parents did the only humane thing they could. Heartbroken, Mom vowed, once again, that we wouldn't have any more dogs after Schatzi.

In the years that followed, we had quite a parade of pets: there were goldfish we won on the boardwalk (they didn't live long enough to name), a blue parakeet named Blue-boy, and a pair of turtles, Pixie and Dixie. I kind of liked the turtles - it always looked like they were on vacation with that stupid plastic green palm tree stuck in the middle of their bowl.

I was in the fifth grade when we moved to Wood-Ridge. We lived in a large downstairs apartment of a two-family house when we got a sweet miniature dachshund called Rusty. We all thought Rusty was certifiably crazy because she'd often stare at nothing, start to bark and then run into the next room like someone was chasing her. When one of us tried to take her outside through the basement, she'd stand on the stairs before the basement entrance, then turn around and go right back into the apartment. We had a 'ghost' - and everyone felt its presence but never discussed it, until years later. We even had a 'cold spot' next to our furnace! Yikes! But I digress - that's a whole other story. Rusty lived a nice long life and, when she passed, yup, my mom vowed we wouldn't have any more dogs after Rusty.

It was years later when Fritz, another miniature dachshund, came to live with my 'empty nester' parents. Fritz was undoubtedly my mother's dog. He would follow her from room to room and sit on her lap as she read or watched television. He was a great dog except for one thing ... he liked to pee in my father's shoes. No one else's shoes ... just Dad's. would remind Dad constantly "Ed, put your shoes in the closet and shut the door" And did he? Naah. So, every morning, as Dad got dressed for work, a string of swear words would fill the air just as he slipped his foot into his shoe. Mom swore Fritz would look at her and smile.

As we became adults and had our own families, Eddie always had a dog, and my sister, Lynda, had a couple of dogs too. Me? I prefer other people's dogs. Having a dog would be like having a dark cloud looming about; a fear that it just might be another white Cloud, waiting to hold me hostage! 3

Oh Well, That's Just the Way of Change ... Really?

As we progress through life (better known as AGING) we recognize that some things are not quite the way we once knew them. Let's look at some examples:

- You cannot get the subscription to your favorite magazine at a discounted price unless you agree to automatic renewal. FYI that includes AARP Membership.
- The coupon for a Free Sandwich has a fine print "with the purchase of ...", which is usually a fountain soft drink that costs the vendor pennies and you DOLLARS.
- Your server at your favorite restaurant presents you with the bill on a tablet which requires you to negotiate several steps to pay, including the tip, which starts at 20%.
- My tip to you is to select the "NO TIP" icon and provide the server's tip in cash. Remember to ask for a printed receipt itemizing the items you ordered. Up charges are sometimes added to the bill, even though you never ordered them.
- If you frequent a venue boasting a FIVE AND BELOW inventory, then why are the bags of Halloween candy $7.99?
- Your battery just died on your three year old Volkswagen, and you visit your favorite auto supply to purchase a new one. However, they cannot install it because the "module code" needs to be reset and only a car dealer has that capability. So, your $250 replacement battery now costs you $350 plus $175 installation and diastolic fee.
- Have you ever been denied entry to a Sporting Event simply because you didn't have a credit card? More and more sporting venues are demanding payment by credit card, and to add insult to injury, they assess a fee for the transaction!

Yes, things change, many to our disliking. But we have to be cognizant of these changes so as not to become a victim of someone else's whims. Most of these changes are for the advantage and enrichment of those who set "The Rules". So, never feel subconscious about walking away and/or expressing displeasure as to what you find to be self-serving or if you feel that you are being taken advantage of. REALLY!

~ Bob Buteau

Our Veteran's Day Lest We Forget

Once a year, a day is set aside for us to honor those who have fought for our country's existence and the democratic way of life. Too often that truth gets lost in the humdrum of everyday life. Unbeknown to many, that fight continues today.

There are incidents that occur throughout the world that warrant the attention of this nation's military. The ever vigilant force that helps maintain our freedoms that must not be taken for granted.

While maintaining that vigilance, training is an absolute must. Training accidents and mishaps are, unfortunately, quite common. While most do not make the headlines, they do have a profound effect on military families, the price paid for serving our nation.

Less than three percent (3%) of our nation's population serve in our military, all branches-active and reserve. This is a paltry number when you consider what is at stake. They deserve our undying gratitude for their selfless attitudes and willingness to serve.

Our Veterans, ALL our Veterans, need to be recognized in all ways possible – Every day - not just on Veteran's Day.

~ Bob Buteau

Still Paying It Forward VOTING IS A RESPONSIBILITY

The first Tuesday in November is typically known as Election Day. I can remember when I was a youngster, it was a National Holiday. Unfortunately, our lawmakers decided that it facilitated maximum participation in the voting process and eliminated it from the list of recognized holidays.

In the last few years, local governments, our congress, as well as the Supreme Court, have altered voting protocols so as to minimize participation at the polls. This was done by eliminating voting venues, decreasing early voting opportunities, requiring extensive identification requirements, removing citizens from voting rolls without cause, passing laws that forbid voting by mail or requiring an ACCEPTABLE reason for not being able to vote in person.

WE, as citizens, HAVE STOOD BY AND ALLOWED THIS TO HAPPEN, SIMPLY BY NOT VOTING. Legislators, at all levels, who made these changes, are elected officials who also appointed echoes of their own voice to ensure their outcome.

HERE'S WHAT HAPPENS WHEN YOU CHOOSE NOT TO VOTE:

- YOUR VOICE is not heard.
- YOU GIVE UP A RIGHT that many other governments abhor.
- Legislators get elected that DO NOT ACT IN YOUR BEST INTEREST.
- It causes an imbalance within the democratic parties.
- And lastly, you have succumbed to the LOUDEST VOICES.

Ironically, November  $11^{\text{th}}$  is Veterans Day, and it IS a National Holiday. On that day, we honor our nation's Veterans, past and present, who have fought for the democratic way of life we now enjoy. Voting is a sure way to show them the respect and gratitude they deserve.

Once again, I repeat the words inscribed on the bench located in front of the Silver Ridge Park North Clubhouse:

BUT FOR OUR VETERANS, WE WOULD NOT BE FREE

The reason people ignore voting may be because they think "I am just one vote among the millions who don't vote." What if the majority of those millions thought the same way? If you don't stand for something -- you will have to stand for anything!

COMMUNITY

It's not all black and white
This world that we live in,
But rather a swirl of shades, tints and hues.
Even the darkest blacks and grays
Shape what we think and feel;
For without them,
There would be no distinction
Between shadow and substance.

Nor is our world so large that
We cannot hope to effect a change,
In our home, on our street, with our neighbors;
A community that expands exponentially,
Spreading tendrils of good faith, love, and hope
That the next person will feel our gladness
And pass it on to the next one,
And that one ever on to the next.

A kindness here
Inducing a kindness there;
A small act
Growing into a profound action;
Love conquering hate;
Good overcoming evil;
Sharing, with sincerity,
Instead of selfishly keeping.

For we believe in a god,
And in that image and likeness
We are all a god;
Let it shine forth,
Let it touch those of like mind
And, so too, those who think differently.
We are one in our equality,
None more worthy than another.

Fulfillment comes from inside Perfection no longer matters Our lives will be in balance And we will be quietly happy.

~ Elaine Chiodi

Thanksgiving's Coming to Town

It's time to clip the coupons
And save your store receipts
'The more you buy, the more you save'
On something good to eat

The turkey's free at some stores (But don't stuff it overnight!)
The vegetables are crisp and green
Their freshness will delight

The sauces and the gravy
Brighten up each plate
Cranberry red and savory brown
It's all so worth the weight

The best part of this dinner Comes at the very end Desserts are eaten and coffee's drunk We sit back with our friends

We'll yawn and pat our bellies Or play a game or chat No rush to do the clean-up There's later time for that

Too soon folks will be leaving Too long before they're back We relish all the time we've had And swear that we'll keep track.
